LEO M. HENIKOFF, M.D.
PRESIDENT
CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

April, 1991

To The Class of '91

When Rush Medical College was reactivated and merged with Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital in 1969, those of us who were in on the planning and implementation used to refer to what was happening as "an old idea that became new again." In essence, what we had in mind was the replication of the old idea that the best education of medical professionals takes place in an environment where patient care is the primary end, not a by-product. The historical precedent in our own case, of course, was the approximation of this ideal in the establishment of Presbyterian Hospital in 1883 by Rush Medical College faculty for the formation of future physicians in a patient care setting. It was then, and it is today, a philosophical approach to medical education that has made your own educational experience, if not unique, relatively distinctive. As you pursue your careers in medicine, we are confident that your appreciation of this patient-oriented experience will deepen over the years.

I was delighted to learn that you, too, are taking an old idea and making it new once more in this reincarnation of "The Pulse" yearbook. It will undoubtedly be your companion over your professional lives, in the early years as a ready reference on your classmates, in later ones as a means of recreating the spirit and atmosphere in which your success had its origins. Guard it well.

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely,

We, the Class of 1991, are proud to present the latest edition of the Rush Medical College yearbook, The Pulse. The last edition of The Pulse was published in 1895 (That's right, 1895!). Now the class of 1991 takes pride in re-establishing a tradition that the future classes of Rush will hopefully continue. The Pulse was created with the intention of bringing back fond memories of our time at Rush, and we hope that you will enjoy reliving some of the moments we have captured.

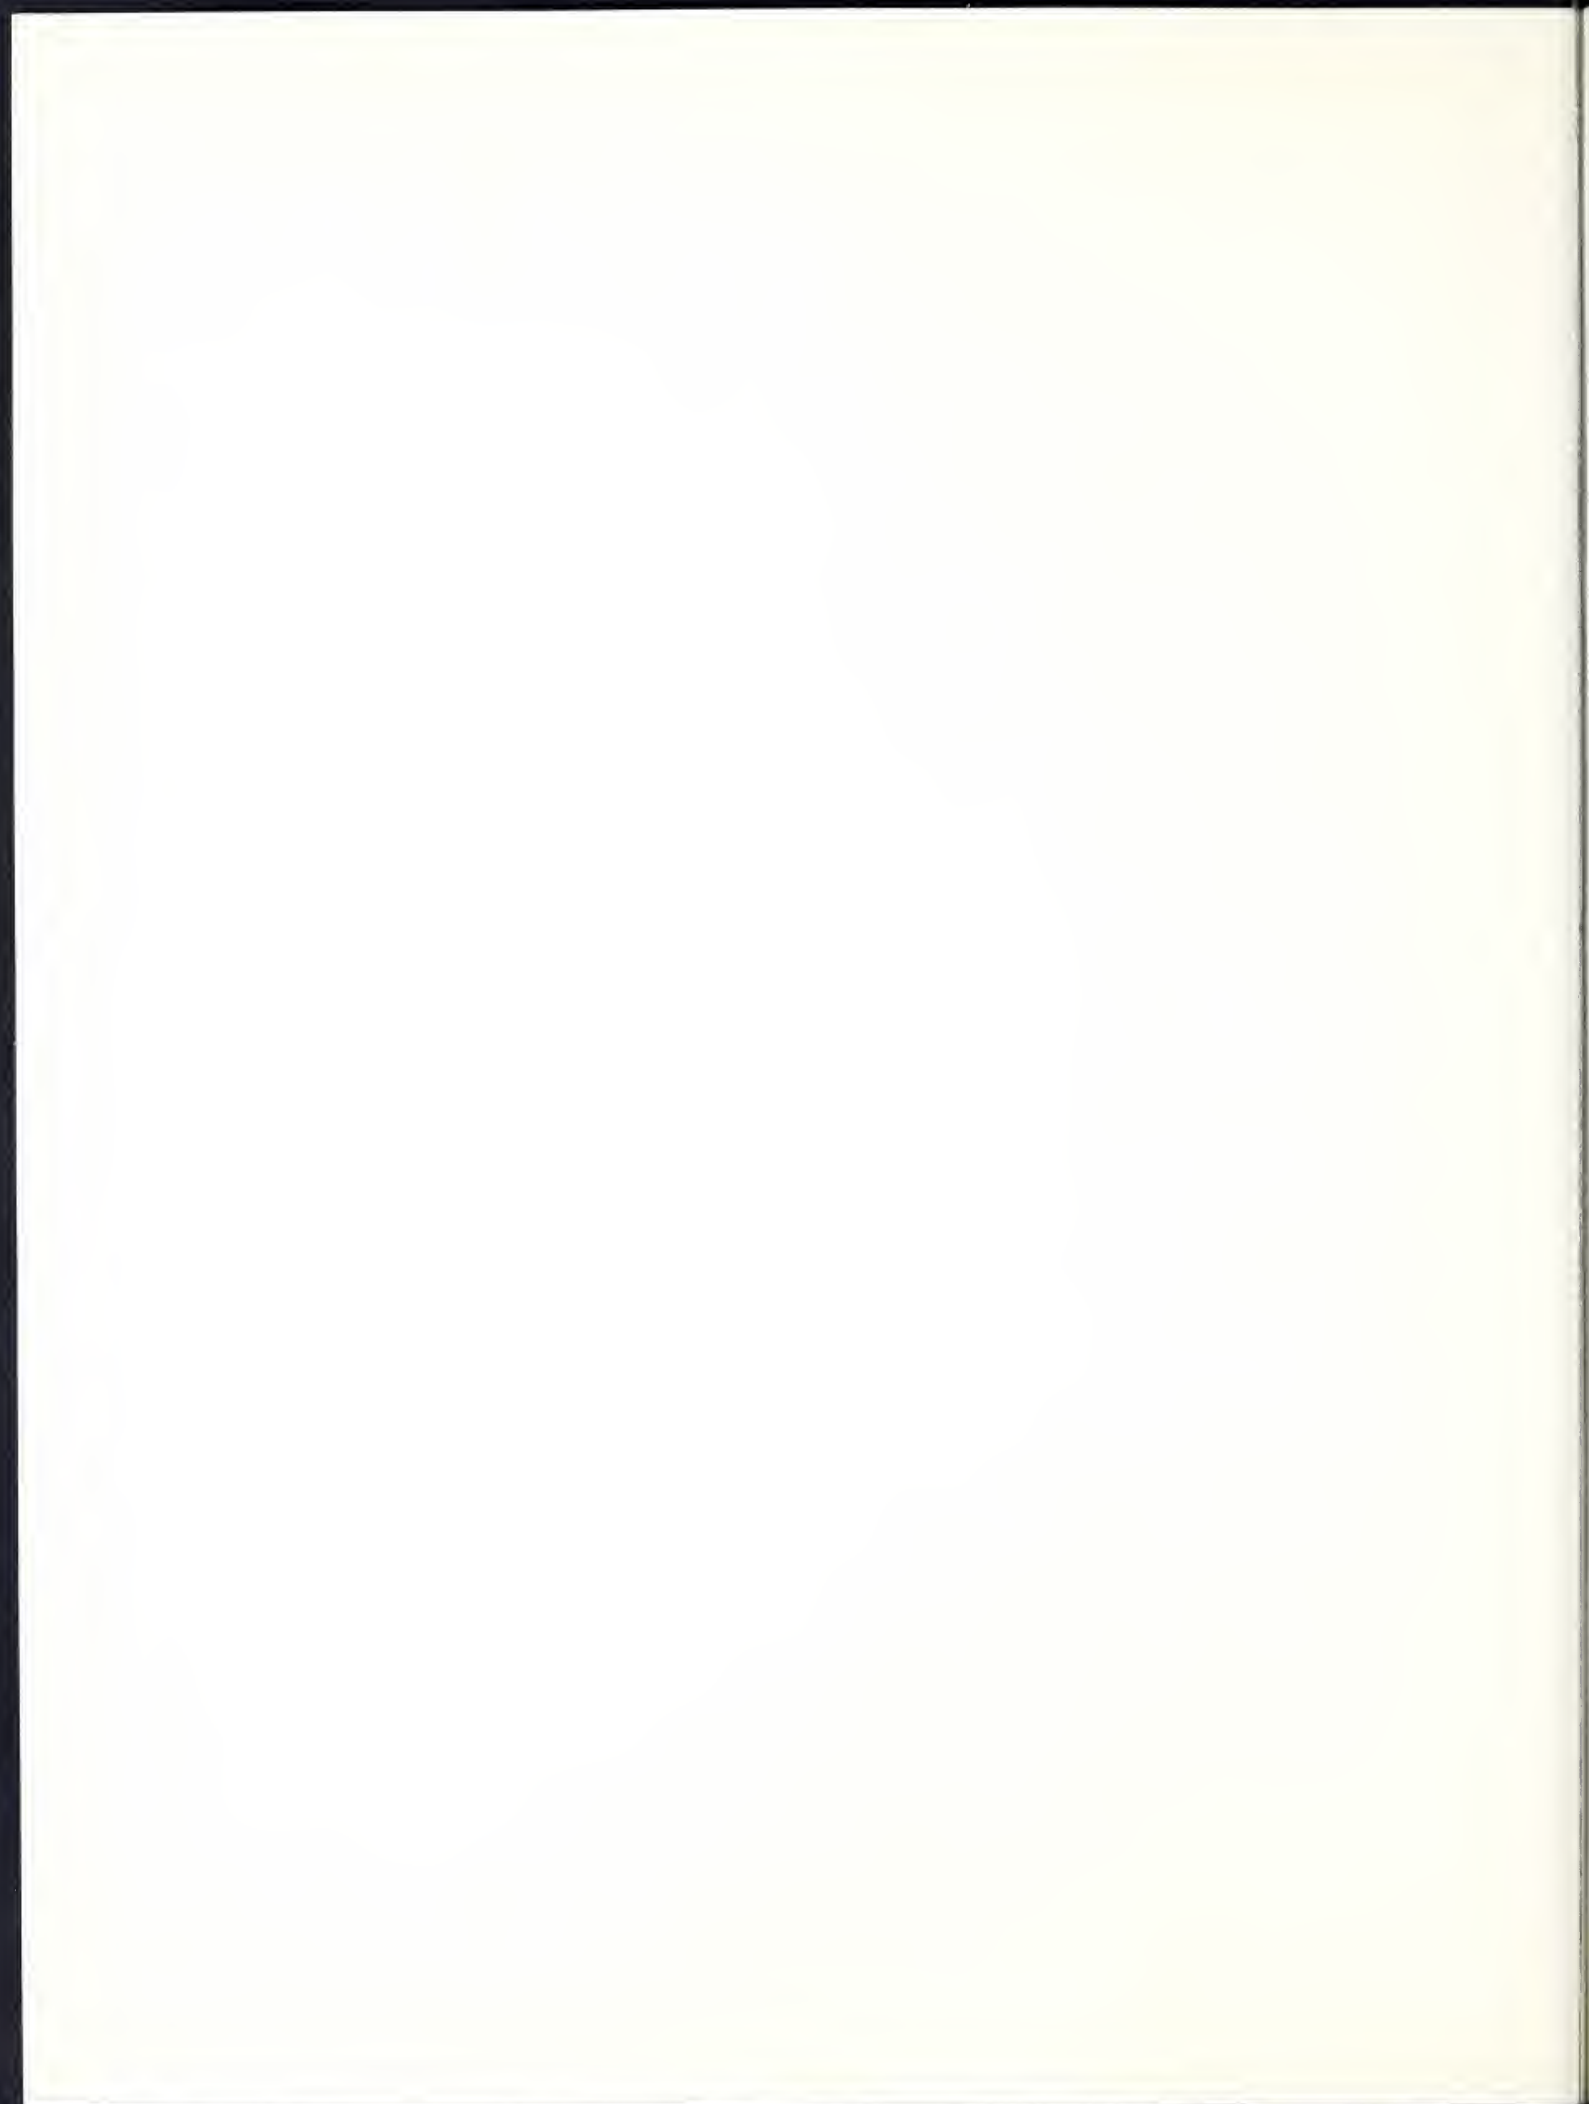

The Class of 1991 would like to thank our professors, attendings and residents for an excellent education and their humanistic approach to medicine. In addition, many thanks to the medical college staff for their guidance and assistance.

The yearbook staff would like to give special thanks to Dr. Henikoff, Dr. Goodman and the Student Affairs office for their support, without which this third edition of The Pulse would not have been possible.

Good luck and much success with your future endeavors!

A good excuse for a party is usually not what you think. Birthdays, weddings, family reunions, and other occasions with an atmosphere of obligatory joy are a bore. Some of the best parties are after funerals. Fun and happiness are not synonymous. Happy people don't need fun. Fun takes your mind off things. If you have a wonderful marriage, beautiful children, a great job, and you're sure you'll go to heaven when you die - why would you want to take your mind off that? But the rest of us need lots of fun.

Exxon will be glad to let the angry public make tanker Captain Joseph Hazelwood a convenient scapegoat. However, the company must accept equal blame for its shortsighted personnel policies and inadequate emergency-response plans. We must realize that Hazelwood is merely an unfortunate reminder of the reckless attitude toward the environment prevalent in today's industrialized countries.

TOP 10 REASONS I WENT TO RUSH MEDICAL COLLEGE

1. THOUGHT IT WAS ON A STRIP WITH ALL THE GREAT BARS.
2. COULDN'T GET INTO PINK FLOYD MEDICAL COLLEGE
3. $17,000, WHAT A BARGAIN!
4. WANTED TO BE IN THE AC CURRICULUM (MISUNDERSTOOD, THOUGHT THEY SAID THE E-Z CURRICULUM)
5. A GREAT CHANCE TO MEET GREEK SURGEONS.
6. THE FANTASTIC SPORTS FACILITIES.
7. THE WONDERFULLY RUN HOUSEKEEPING CODES.
8. WANTED TO BE AN EXTRA ON THE LIFETIME NETWORK.
9. PROUD OF BEING IN AN INSTITUTION WITH THE LARGEST PARKING GARAGE IN THE WHOLE WORLD.

REFLECTING ON THE LAST THREE AND A HALF YEARS STIRS WITHIN ME A CERTAIN SENSE OF PRIDE AND SATISFACTION. BEING A SEVENTHDAY ADVENTIST IT IS WITH REVERENCE THAT I RECOGNIZE AND PAY TRIBUTE TO THE PERMISSIVE OMNIPRESENCE OF MY HEAVENLY FATHER, HIS SON AND HIS HOLY SPIRIT. I ALSO WANT TO THANK MY WONDERFUL AND UNDERSTANDING WIFE SHERON, MY THREE AND A HALF YEAR OLD SON, RONDOLPH AND MY TWO MONTH OLD DAUGHTER, ANASTACIA FOR TOLERATING MY ABSENCE. LET ME ALSO TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO THANK THE STUDENTS, NURSES, RESIDENTS, PROFESSORS AND ATTENDING FOR THEIR CONTRIBUTIONS TO MY MEDICAL EDUCATION. I DO WISH MY CLASSMATES EVERY SUCCESS IN THEIR RESPECTIVE ENDEAVORS, AS WE REPRESENT THE PHYSICIANS OF THE TWENTY FIRST CENTURY. IN CLOSING I WOULD LIKE TO THANK THE RUSH ORGANIZATION FOR GIVING ME THE PRIVILEGE TO FULFILL A CHILDHOOD DREAM AND MY GRAND-MOTHER'S WISH.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882), my favorite American poet, essayist and philosopher, said it best when he wrote:

"To laugh often and love much; to win the respect of intelligent persons and the affection of children; to earn the approbation of honest citizens and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to give of one's self; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to have played and laughed with enthusiasm and sung with exultation; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived—this is to have succeeded."

When you go walking by night up a street and a man, visible a long way off- for the street mounts uphill and there is a full moon- comes running towards you, well, you don't catch hold of him, not even if someone chases yelling at his heels, but you let him run on.

For it is night, and you can't help it if the street goes uphill before you in the moonlight, and besides, these two have maybe started a chase to amuse themselves, or perhaps they are both chasing a third, perhaps the first is an innocent man and the second wants to murder him and you would become an accessory, perhaps they don't know anything about each other and are merely running separately home to bed, perhaps they are night birds, perhaps the first man is armed.

And anyhow, haven't you a right to be tired, haven't you been drinking a lot of wine? You're thankful that the second man is now long out of sight.

To win the respect of intelligent people
And the affection of children
To earn the appreciation of honest critics
And endure the betrayal of false friends
To appreciate beauty
To find the best in others
To leave the world a bit better
Whether by a healthy child
A redeemed social condition
Or a job well done
To know even one other life has breathed
Because you lived.
This is to succeed

PSITTACOSIS

Patients presenting with pulmonary problems, particularly pneumonitis; previously partaking in poultry production; primarily pluckers in processing plants; pet shop proprietors parlaying into profits pigeons, parakeets and parrots as presents for people with a proclivity for passerines; probably have prominent pathognomonic pulmonary pathology pertaining to the presence of C. psittaci.

Do you mentally kick yourself when you reflect on lost opportunities and stupid life choices? Join others like yourself by entering medical school, where you'll have the chance to beat your head against the wall with some of the best.

CONGRATS, mates on completing phase 99 of 100 in your quest for a real life. In retrospect, med school has been a good time, but only because I've been lucky enough to link up with the wild, partying, down-to-earth kinda group you are (and you know who you are!). So, as you enter the final frontier remember that beyond it many have gone. And keep your bic hard and the crowd alive and the world will turn. And when you take that last second J, have confidence and follow thru.

THE TIMES OF YOUR LIFE

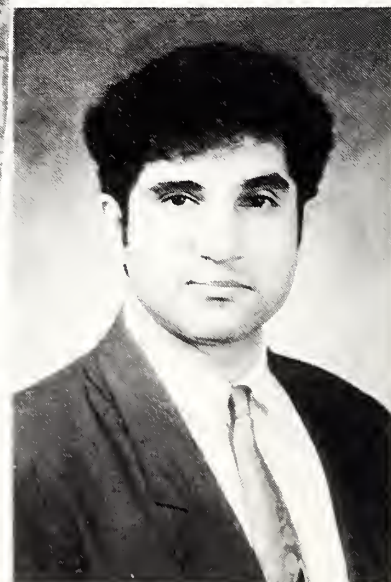

Payman Sattar

We go through many phases in our lives that prepare us for our future endeavors. Medical school is just another phase it is neither the first, nor the last. Working long hours as an Elvis stand-in, prepared me for the long hours of medical school. Unfortunately, I got into a scuffle with Elvis and was fired after he found out about the long hours I was putting in with his then girlfriend Ann Margret. My days as an arms dealer taught me about human nature, and how to deal with people. I am hoping that medical school has prepared me for my residency at the Vienna school of Performance Art, where I will learn to heal through the powers of interpretive dance.

Top 10 reasons why I'm in medical school

- 10) Heal loans allowed me to live in the manner I'm accustomed to.
- 9) Already had the white coat.
- 8) Close to home.
- 7) Am intrigued by disgusting retching illnesses.....provided by cafeteria.
- 6) Darryl "Healer King" Schlegel M.D. will look good on business cards.
- 5) Access to blood, pints and pints of fresh, warm, thick scarlet blood.
- 4) Can influence and win new friends thru miracle of prescription medications.
- 3) Already had the white coat and I look Damn good in it.
- 2) Can giggle at old wrinkly people behind the safety of OR face mask.
- 1) Rectal exams.....I just plain ole love em

These past four years have brought many changes, many memories and most of all, great friends (especially D&L P-M, R², and MPL my fiancée'). I've learned a great deal (especially how much I have yet to learn) and seen so much.

Thank you all for the memories. I will carry these memories with me as I move to Evanston to do my transitional year followed by four years of Radiology at St. Francis Hospital.

I wish all of you the best of luck and remind you not to forget where you came from when you get to where you are going.
